How did Montresor know that the house would be empty? Active coding * = key idea wow = surprising information t-s = text-pear i = inference t-t = text-text? Cask of amontillado questions 8. 5. It is ironic because he killed him. Getting equal is not worth it if the person is also punished for what he has done. He told the assistants that he would not be at home until the morning and did not have to leave the house. Montresor felt as if Fortunato had done it wrong on numerous occasions. Where and when the story is set? So that he would have had few problems to concrete and deserve it when he kills him. The chains were also taking place so that they could do it on the wall. He is used to ensuring that Fortunato comes with him. It is underground; He is dark and there are bones 6 piles. He attracted him with AmonTillado. It is early in the evening, in the catacombs in an Italian city during a carnival. What is the meaning of the phrase "a mistake is not inargegoveri when punishment exceeds its repair"? Why does Montresor seem worried about Fortunato's health? 2. Why did Montresor look for revenge on Fortunato? Also, it's not worth it unless the person I am looking for revenge understands that he made me wrong and I'm repaying him for what he has done. I would reveal, that's okay, but when it's the right time and without hurting me. 3. 7. 9. However, I have not threatened him or gave him any reason to worry. Where had the stone and mortar hidden, used by Montresor to equalize the niche entrance?
